

Maya Boutique Hotel

SRI LANKA

Sitting pretty in idyllic countryside — a stone's throw from Tangalle's stunning beaches — Maya, Sri Lanka is surrounded by natural beauty.

The all-suite villa is an exquisitely executed restoration of a Sri Lankan manor house dating from the late 19th century. Paying dutiful homage to its Dutch and British period features, it seamlessly blends new contemporary interiors with the original architecture.

The tropical garden, abundant with coconut trees, local bird life and lush paddy fields provide a tranquil backdrop to what is a true sanctuary. All the five suites are granted direct access to the property's stylish pool — the ideal place to cool off in the tropical heat.

Rooms have custom designed fittings and furnishings — think king-sized beds, sky high ceilings and large luxury bathrooms — while decor is wood and white with latticed wooden shutters, teak tables and chairs, and smooth polished cement floors.

Outside, the 2 acre garden overlooks green paddy fields and hammocks lie lazily between big trees, waiting to sway guests into a peaceful oblivion.

Food is a priority at Maya with the in-house chef garnering an excellent reputation for Sri Lankan fusion and international dishes. Maya's restaurant has attracted international clientele from the surrounding area, and is open to outside guests.

Enjoy the variety of dining locations at Maya: the interior dining room in the Old House, wrapped in original latticework; the pavilion by the pool; a tranquil spot in a corner of the garden or in the new open air pavilion nestled at the edge of the paddy fields.

After a freshly cooked breakfast served with fresh coffee and juices, why not book a private yoga class? Enliven the senses with an invigorating yoga session, take it slow with grounding Tai Chi or breathe deeply during a soothing Pranayama and meditation class.

Classes take place in the property's specially design yoga pavilion, in the extensive gardens or on the beach — feet tucked into the warm Sri Lankan sand, eyes looking out onto the calm, blue horizon.

A daily three-course set menu is offered for lunch and dinner with several options designed by the chef to meet guest's requirements and served with the perfect bottle of wine.
